

Eks Drill Under Lights At Renfrew

The lights went on at Renfrew park last night, at least lights as the current season is concerned. By way of marking the turning on of the Julie manager, Ralph Morgan sent his Eskimos through a workout that lasted for better than 90 minutes.

Morgan, a bearded boscman, spent most of the time in the immediate vicinity of the hitting cage. The drill stressed the art of putting lumber to board, as seen in the lumberjacks. (Left) Below, Forrest Hunter and other moundsmen who took turns handling the battoning practice when Weller Morgan saw must have made him speculate if perhaps two or three of the lumberjacks in the cage had a spot on his Big Four league champions weren't pretty serious about it all.

WRIGHT IMPRESSIVE

Forrest Wright, the big catcher from Grande Prairie, looked particularly impressive with bat in hand. He hit several balls over the right field fence, and indicated that he had some power.

However, Bob McNab, 19, first-time player with Western Canada junior Canadians, proved even more of a surprise. He doesn't begin to have Wright's power, nevertheless, he hit the ball solidly and for distance a goodly share of the time.

McNab, subjected Len Larson, rookie shortstop from the Junior league, to a long session in the cage. When he was not understood, the Swede-born lad tried to get a thorough tryout, the idea being that he could be a valuable midget valuable utility infielder.

INTENSIVE ACTIVITY

With the announcement that both Calgary teams have come up with midgets, the question of the re-lease tonight of the name of the Club leader the stage is set for a period of intensive activity by the Big Four entries set for the May 13 openers.

Cubs practice at Renfrew tonight starts at 6:30 o'clock.

Avery Brundage Renews Old Battle

ROME, April 26 (AP)—Aver Brundage, president of the United States Olympic Committee, was spending the night in the Alberts Big Four baseball league this year.

Officials of Calgary Buffaloes announced that Jim Forsythe, 25-year-old pitching star from Spokane, Wash., will handle Buffs this season. Business manager Harold Cudall of Party 99 also announced that the Alberts' baseball league, which has been suspended since the removal of teams from city streets, was seriously reducing nesting places of birds which feed on insects.

Observers guessed that failure to make the removal of mayfly nests in the city's parkways was causing attempts by some members to lease the reimbursements of allowances for the Alberts' business while representing their countries in Olympic games.

Bells For Pussy

RED DEER, Alta. (CP)—Concerned residents decided to pass a by-law which requires all cats to be beller or elas. Cat-belling became a law in 1948, it was found that removal of trees from city streets was seriously reducing nesting places of birds which feed on insects.

Anavets Drill

Practice of Anavets senior men's football team will be held tonight at McLean Park. Starting time is 6:30 o'clock.

Buffs, Purity Sign Ex-Pros as Managers

CALGARY, April 26 (CP)—Two pitchers, both with one week, Cudall said Peterson was bringing four other players from Portland, including three pitchers, and six players from other Pacific Coast teams. None of their names was disclosed.

Buffs' officials said Jim Gibson, hard-hitting player-manager of the club last season, was returning again this year. He will concentrate entirely on playing and will take care of none of the managerial chores.

Official said Forsythe would bring "several" United States players that he has signed, and that he will be here in two or three days to open spring training for the club.

Silent Forests

CRANBERRY PORTAGE, Man. (CP)—Prospectus Hasset forced the silence of the woods to be silent due to the influx of the white man's "nord of 40" and his hunting, trapping what he doesn't want. He said even when the birds today you seldom hear chirp or a call.

Top of the list of "foreigners" who played amateur ball in the land of the heather. An inside right, Weller had a tryout with Gibson, and was given his grip and heading to "God's Country." He, however, did not make the dugout, but he did get to have plenty on the ball before that kind of a club will even look at you.

Weller served a six-year hitch in the King's "Navy" during the recent war, two of the years being aboard the aircraft carrier that recently bombarded by the Chinese Reds on the Yangtze river.

Other players from across the pond are Sid Laycock, a versatile Englishman, Andy Stratford, a former English footballer, Russell, inside left from Scotland, Sam Fielden and Cyril Stamps, both from England, and a high school in England.

Wouters Regains Lost Pep

Roy Wouters, the hard-punching western Canadian middleweight champion, who beat Marcel Hétu Thursday night, is on his way east from Vancouver for two reasons.

Primarily, his home is in Montreal, and he wants to find out if he has the staff that a fighter needs to make him the east's best boxer.

The other reason is that Vancouver is beginning to get him down. "The woods end I lost the peg I had when I first started to train in the coast," he said recently. "That climate will drain your energy if you ain't used to it."

A serious guy, Wouters comes to the West to help the Westerners. Figures our climate, the fresh air and all, has restored the old zip. Roy has been going through his paces at the Gateway Gym each night will substantiate the claim. He looks strong.

Wouters wound up his training last night.

The Thursday night bantam, set for the Stock Pavilion, will be over the 12-round route.

Supporting card lined up by promoter Gene Maines:

Maple Leaf (6 rounds): Blaine Palmer vs Hec Fulton (6 rounds): Stan James vs Tom Glazebrook (4 rounds): Chuck Glazebrook (4 rounds). Action starts at 8:30 o'clock.

Derby Ducts: $9.25 the Copy

Conn Smythe may lash out at those who oppose professional hockey's 'C' form and Eddie Joost boot base balls in the Philadelphia A's infield, but right now Herb Karren and his good wife don't much care.

You see, the Karrens are about to Louisville later in the week, and first look at the 75th running of the Colone Matt Winn's Kentucky derby.

Keen followers of the thoroughbred the west-end couple plan to lay over for a couple of days in Toledo, Ohio, before proceeding the rest of the way to the scene of action.

Naturally they're pretty excited about it all. "Yep, this is our first one," Mr. Karren admitted last night. Meanwhile he brandished a pair of tickets to ramshackle Louisville Downs.

Those ducats, you can be certain, are 'worth their weight in gold' to the couple who very probably will be Edmonton's lone representatives at the May 7 classic.

Actually they act Mr. Karren back a not insignificant $18.50. Nothing is cheap in the blue grass on derby day.

Still It Could Worse

As closely as he can figure it Karren came up (via the U.S. and King's mail) with a pair of tickets that guarantee seating accommodations somewhere near the head of the start.

In other words, Heartbreak Lane is being what it is at the Downs, the Edmontonians won't see much of the two or three of the entries head-and-head it to the wire.

But that's a mere bagatelle in Louisville with the greatest colts and fillies of the continent are on the prowl for that $100,000 in trophy crowns.

Thousands who cram their way into the Downs never get so much as a glimpse of the race. As a matter of fact if it weren't for the likes of Clem McCarthy and assorted other radio broadcasters and P.A. operators, the picturesquely named Run for the Roses would be just another name for those jammed into the infield, say, and scattered.

When that noisy (is there a mint julep in the house?) derby day crowd takes to blowing its root the infield set doesn't even 'hear' the race, much less see it.

As Barnum Said: "You Can . . .

But whatever the lure the Karrens from Edmonton's west end will be joining the Browns from San Francisco's Nob Hill, the Whites from New York's lower east side and thousands more to form what almost amounts to a pilgrimage to the Downs.

More and more the stories circulate that the slogan in the Kentucky centre at derby time is "let's get ours for the year."

The five-buck hotel room suddenly retails at six and seven times that sum. Price of meals goes sky-high. The traditional mint julep, most over-rated of all derby features, suddenly blossoms into a luxury drink.

But do the "suckers" pay a little bit. The derby mad was off the numbers that engulfs Louisville each year just keeps getting bigger and bigger.

As a matter of fact it's going to take a lot of hammers in a lot of hands knocking for a long time to destroy the attraction the 88-year-old Matt Winn's race holds for sportsmen almost the world over.

Other turf classics may find the horses running faster in far more beautiful and serviceable (from fan standpoint) surroundings.

But no matter. This is THE race of the year.

Baron Boss Bows Out In $2,000,000 Deal

CLEVELAND, April 26—(AP)—Controlling interest in Cleveland Barons Hockey club and the $1,500,000 area where they play their American Hockey league game here was sold yesterday to a Minneapolis businessman.

Albert C. Sutphen, builder and founder of the Arena and sole owner of the Barons, announced the sale.

MINNEAPOLIS BUYERS

Buyers, he said, were George Drake and George Heller, partners in a construction company, a trucking business and Lytle Z. Wright, owner of the United Kingdoms hockey club of the United States Hockey League.

No purchase price was disclosed, but about $2,000,000 was reported fixed.

Along with the Barons and the Arenas, the deal included the Barons' interests in hockey farms, which include the Minnepolis and Brandon, S.D., teams.

Ed. note: Bob Carter, Bob Soling, and Jim McLean are all former members of the Flyers, play for Cleveland.

Carl F. Lenzon, Cleveland president and general manager, joined with Sutphen in selling Arenas stock of which the two had a majority holding.

Robert E. (Buddy) Hand, Cleveland lawyer representing the purchasing group, said an effort would be made to keep the Barons.

Hand, a 250 minority shareholder. Until this effort is completed Hand said, the exact amount of the transaction would not be known.

MENTAL PRESSURE

Sutphen, 54, said that because of the pressure of the purchase he was required in operation of the arena he wanted to sell out and retire.

Bernard E. (Buddy) Hand, Cleveland lawyer, representing the purchasing group, said operation of the arena and the hockey club would be left to the new owners.

The arena was completed in 1937 at a cost in excess of $1,000,000 and it has been the home of the Cleveland professional hockey team since then.

Exhibition Soccer

An exhibition soccer match between North Side Legion and Red Army from Moscow will be held next night at Clarke Stadium. All signed players are asked to turn out for the contest which will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Along with the trophy goes $1,000.

It was almost a unanimous decision for the golden-haired Quackenbush, who had 43 goals and 34 assists from a panel of 18 sports writers and radio broadcasters.

Eskimo Grid Chief Optimistic Guy

Reaches for Stars as 150 Local Hopefuls Go in Drill

It's pretty obvious by now that Annie Stukus has brought an optimistic point of view to his labors as coach of the Eskimos.

For instance he hadn't taken more than a quick look or two at the more than 150 local young (mostly) hopefuls who turned up at Clarke stadium last night when he blurted out something that went about like this:

"But we look there's not a lot of good looking kids out there tonight. What's his name? And that kid with the big shoulders. Boy, oh boy."

"Say, maybe we'll find enough stuff to put together a good back-up one we can come along the game and win."

LOOK AT PUNTERS

He left it at that to go "and have a look at the kickers." But what he had said is admittedly out of order. The Eskimos' records indicated that the grid mentor from the east was serious when he recently told reporters "every kid will turn out for practice" and "we're

Not much of a heavy nature was attempted. To open, manager Jay Shostor and a couple of aides registered more than half a dozen names. Twice as many more of the young fellas preferred not to be record as aspirating to a place on the squad.

By J. D.

People of Western Germany talk little about Hitler these days. But at the mention of Goebbels they see red.

That's the word Johnny Sixt thinks best to Edmonton from Germany after a visit of 30 days in the Saar region.

Sixt, who works for Yellow Cab Co. in Canada in 1938 three years before Hitler's Brown Shirts swept to power. "Nothing talk much about Hitler but they still hate Goebbels," Johnny told me.

It seems they have a special reason for hating Goebbels, minister of propaganda in the Hitler clique.

After the war had been brought to an end, Goebbels toured the Rhineeland areas making defiant radio speeches. He proclaimed to the world that the British and American air forces in particular—that every German house was a fortress.

Allied guns took him at his word. The most destructive bombings of the war resulted.

In one raid, 1,000 to 1,200 people were killed in 20 minutes, Sixt was told.

The Germans hate even the memory of Goebbels so much.

In addition they tell the story about the last double-cross that Goebbels is said to have pulled on his own family.

MURDERS OWN FAMILY

In fact he is the murderer of German Goebbels is supposed to have told his wife and children to hide in coffins which would be buried in the ground in Switzerland. He gave them each a pill which he said would put them asleep in their most comfortable beds. Parents and children took the pills and died. They were poisonous pills.

George, Sixt's son, is supposed to have shot himself, along with Hitler as the Russians closed in on Berlin.

Sixt says he gained the impression the German people are "mad" at themselves for failing for the likes of Hitler and Goebbels.

"I feel certain there is still a will to avenge Hitler. The Germans have really learned their lesson the hard way," he declared.

In the direction of the Saar, Sixt is now well satisfied with the Allied occupation. They have a horror of the Americans and British, but are leaving them at the mercy of the Russians. They seem to think a war between Russia and the west is inevitable.

Sixt was greatly surprised and impressed at the religious revival in Western Germany. Choruses are crowded every Sunday. This is particularly true of Catholic church choirs.

HOUSING WORST PROBLEM

Housing is the worst problem in the badly-bombed cities of Western Germany, with three and four-story houses in one four-room apartment. DPs from eastern Germany have aggravated the situation.

Johnny saw little evidence of acute food shortages. Meats and fats are in short supply, but German restaurants are much better fare than those in Britain.

For example, Sixt had no trouble getting a meal and a glass of beer in German restaurants, but was laughed at when he ordered Macaroni and cheese. The black market is still active in Western Germany and keeps prices of many food stuffs far beyond parity with the rest of Europe.

Johnny's father and mother would like to come to Canada. They are sick and tired of war and economic conditions that follows war.

As for Johnny himself, Canada seems like heaven. "I never really knew what a wonderful place Canada is until I visited Germany," he said.

Culmination Concert Thrills Large Recreation Group

By Eunice Hoffman

Recreation groups in the city kept an audience of over 250 spectators enthralled in a fast-moving culmination program that ranged from male choirs and wrestling to kiddie drama and adagio dancing.

A step in the right direction was provided at the beginning of the program when the Welsh Male Voice Choir gave a stirring performance of "Men of Hariech," "Sleep Kentucky Babe," and the "Sleepwood Song." The choir, under the direction of Jack Williams, was deservedly well-received.

Most unique presentation of the evening was the "Folkie Parade" presented by children of the Edmonton Creche.

Costumes designed by Hook Signs Ltd., for extension of outdoor advertising privileges to local manufacturers and agriculturists, was referred to the Town Planning Commission for consideration.

SPECIAL MEET

Proposed conversion of the power plant to gas fuel instead of oil was the subject of a special meeting of city council. Date of this meeting will be fixed by Mayor C. E. G. Earley in the near future.

Application from Barti Taxi company for three taxi licences was referred to the Town Planning Commission for consideration.

This company, composed of three war veterans, has been operating a taxi business from an address on 103 St. just outside the city limits. They operated under license issued by the Highway Traffic Branch and by the City of Edmonton.

REFUSE REQUEST

Request of Dr. McAlpine, medical officer for Jasper Place, to permit sewer connection to city sewer system from an address on 103 St. was turned down by council.

The west side of 103 St. is outside the city's limits and commissioners recommended against the request as far as their opinion. The request was referred to the city engineer for a more detailed study of future requests for similar services to houses outside the limits.

Shenanigans In The Butter World

By Bea Thrifty

Ah-hah! Guess what today brings! Monarchs in the butter-margarine market adds up to a one-cent decrease in the price of margarine and a one-cent increase in the price of butter. This brings margarine to 41¢ per pound from a 43¢ price and butter to 62¢ per pound.

Come May we'll be buying the colorful margarines . . . providing eastern distributors have the new margarine will in all probability make a difference to future prices.

The wafer's selling for 15¢ per pack, and it's only as big as a bug's ear in brightly colored pottery.

I specially liked the saucy green frogs perched on a darker green leaf.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Most Widows Good Matrimonial Risk

DEAR MISS DIX: Many bachelors shy away from marrying a widow, girl or old, with children. To those timid souls I wish to say that there are many advantages in acquiring a wife who is broken to double harness, so to speak.

In the first place, the widow probably has a house full of furniture and all that she needs, and in days when chairs are the price of throats.

A widow is far more likely to have a little money than a young girl is.

The widow is accustomed to being tied down, so she doesn't expect to be taken out for good times, as a debauch does.

Having lived alone, she is an amateur electrician and carpenter and can fix the plumbing and the egg screens without troubling you.

Nor are the widow's children the handiwork they are supposed to be.

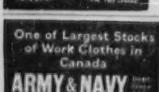

On the contrary, they are an asset instead of a liability, for any kind of a house is well stocked and friendless hand raised it at his pleasure.

And, besides all the Number Two husband is not responsible

Five-Year-Old Should Sleep Through Night

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The habit a child forms of wanting to sleep in the parent's bed is minimized (or accepted) by some authorities. But it leads to a type of dependence, as well as a discomfort to all sleepers, which makes it a poor habit to cultivate.

There comes a time in each child's life when he is keenly aware of the advantages of staying with the family. He goes to bed with reluctance. He has to have the bedroom door open or a light sleeping might improve if he slept in his parents' bedroom, needs all in a youth's bed with a firm mattress and stout doors.

You should have him given a special bed, or a special room. Why he may be so wakeful at night, may be that he has not had vitamin D this winter so that his body is not strong enough to withstand the cold. He may be showing up in jittery behavior and sleeplessness.

WHY GROW OLD

Breathing Exercises Help Nervous Tension

By Josephine Lowman

If you find yourself with a low-down feeling, weary and all gone in the late afternoon, there are definite things you can do to help.

Unless you are a child or very old, you can do a great deal of active trouble probably comes from nervous tension. There is nothing you can do to help yourself except pickup as exercise. You will have to try it to believe it. This is the last thing in the world you feel like doing at such a time.

A sport is good and you will feel better. If you are not able to do this during work days, you have a badminton court or a ping-pong table, or a tennis court. A brick walk is always available. There are also some very helpful exercises which are soothing and relaxing.

Do this one: Stand in front of an open window, toes pointing out, arms at sides, hands at sides. Raise your arms upward to shoulder height, palms turning toward the ceiling. As you do so, take a deep breath, turn your head backwards and breathe in deeply. Lower heels to the floor, turn your head to the side, hold a deep breath, then repeat several times.

Another: Stand in erect. Swing both arms toward the left. As you do so, take a deep breath, turn your head to the right. Now swing the arms toward the right and bend your head to the right, then turn it to the left. Do this in a slow easy way with a relaxed swing.

Another: Bend over and let the weight of your head pull you to the floor in a rag doll manner. Lift the trunk and arms, raising the head, then let the weight of the head pull you back to the floor, lowering the head backwards, continue.

Many men and women suffer tension at the back of the neck after a hard day's work. This may be the cause of their trouble. My leaflet "Your Skin Needs" will be helpful. When he wakes up, his desires become acute and he cries to be with the mother and when he is told that she is not there, he becomes very distressed, crying and clinging to his bed.

A Sleepy Mother writes,

"I am terribly worried about my 5-year-old son. He has a bad cold and has been crying all night. I have sat and told him stories. As soon as he is quiet I stop, put on a small light, which makes him feel safe and would make him feel more secure."

"After all this reading and fussing, he goes to sleep at a much later hour than he should, as he gets up early to go to school."

"He sleeps about 2½ hours and then comes into my bed for the rest of the night. I don't know what to do. I have tried to get him to sleep in his own bed, but he won't. I cannot sit up all night as I have no opportunity to work in the house. I have to go to work when the children are asleep."

Beside the astounding economy of the "A40" Devon, there are many practical reasons for this overwhelming preference. Austin gives so much for so little. For instance, Austin's amazingly smooth, comfortable ride, its modern, distinctive styling, its ease of handling in heaviest traffic, its responsive, power-packed engine, and, finally, its thorough, year-in, year-out dependability.

Why buy costly gasoline to pull around an extra 1000 pounds or more that isn't really necessary to get you to your destination? The "A40" Devon gives big mileage without sacrificing fine-car quality. But see for yourself. Drop in at your nearest Austin Dealer for a demonstration. Everywhere, the swing is to Austin - You Can Depend On It!
